

Can we use this free software to help my child?

How will mehealth help my child?

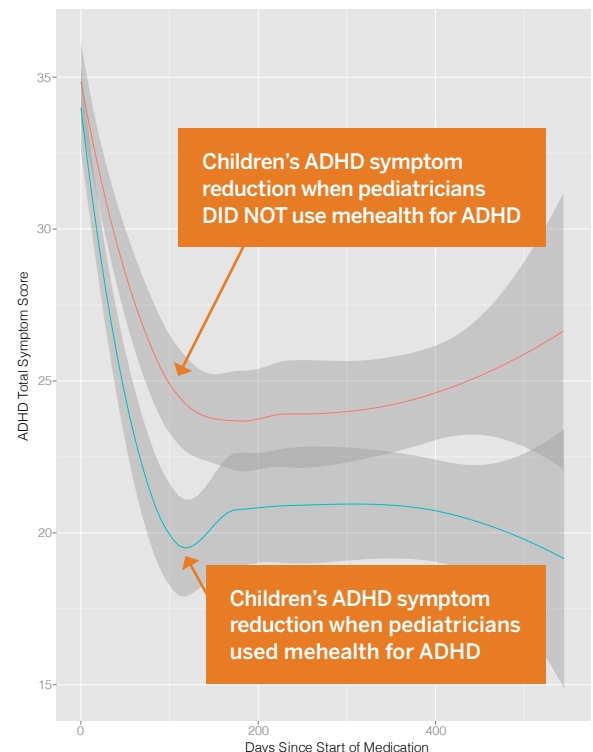

- Research has shown that children with ADHD have fewer symptoms if their doctor uses the mehealth for ADHD software (see graph)

How will mehealth make life easier for me as a parent?

- Able to complete online ratings for my child's ADHD symptoms and side effects to track my child's treatment progress
- Teachers receive automated reminders to complete ADHD rating scales online to assess for changes
- Easy-to-read graphs showing children's treatment progress over time
- Parents and teachers can easily create behavioral reward systems to improve specific child behaviors

How will mehealth make ADHD care easier for my child's doctor?

- Office staff will spend less time getting ADHD ratings back from parents and teachers
- Your child's doctor will be automatically notified if behaviors worsen or problematic side effects emerge
- Your child's doctor will receive 25 American Board of Pediatrics Maintenance of Certification Part 4 credits by using the software

(Epstein et al., Pediatrics, 2016)

To learn more or to sign up for this free online tool, you can go to www.mehealth.com. Note that there are demonstration videos of the software under the Features and Demo tab (www.mehealth.com/features/).

There are also regularly scheduled online webinars where you can see a brief demonstration of the mehealth for ADHD software and ask questions directly to the development team (www.mehealth.com/demo).